PAYS CLOSE ATTENTION AS WITNESSES TELL OF

“CAESAR” YOUNG

Cabman and Others Tell How “Caesar” Young Met His Death, and Girl’s Story of Fatal Ride Is in Part Contradicted—Skeleton Used to Illustrate Death Wound of Bookmaker.

By Boston American Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Nan Patterson’s counsel fought fiercely to-day to bar a skeleton offered as an exhibit by the prosecution in the trial of the “Florodora” girl charged with the murder of “Caesar” Young. The fight was vain, however, and during the evidence which followed the introduction of the gruesome thing the girl sat with white face, fascinated, apparently, and watching every act of the men who are battling for her life.

ARMED FARMERS, ROUSED BY BOLD MURDER, HUNT SLAYER IN WOODS

Plummer Bacon Shoots Farmhand to Death at Dalton, N. H., With a Rifle.

Tries to Kill Wife of His Victim’s Employer Also; Posses on Trail.

Special to the Boston American. DALTON, N. H., April 25.—Armed farmers are scouring the woods in the vicinity of this town in search of Plummer Bacon, twenty-three years, son of George Bacon, a prosperous farmer, who is wanted on the charge of murder of John Young, a farm hand, and attempted murder of Mrs. George Ashe. That Mrs. Ashe was not killed is due to the efforts of her husband, who knocked the gun away in time to send the bullet that was intended for her into the ceiling.

Young Bacon went home after the shooting, killed his father, his mother and his sister and said that they would never see him or the bones he rode again. He returned in an hour, however, and left the house. Then he went into the woods and has not been seen since.

The murder occurred at the farmhouse of George Ashe, near Dalton, N. H., one of the places visited by Plummer Bacon. Raised Rifle and Fired.

In the living room of the farmhouse were seated Farmer George Ashe and his wife and their two sons and Mrs. Ashe’s mother, Mr. Miller. In another room was John Young, of Dalton, N. H., who was killed. Young Bacon, employed as a farm hand, was standing near the door.

Without warning knock, the door was suddenly thrown open and Plummer Bacon entered the room. He carried a rifle in his hand. “Where is Young?” he demanded with an oath.

At that moment Young stepped in from the adjoining room. With another with Bacon raised his gun. The shot was fired. The bullet pierced Young’s chest and he fell to the floor. He dropped to the floor and started to run from the room. Bacon raised his rifle and fired it at the fleeing man. The second shot entered the ceiling.

Throwing off Ashe, Bacon turned and ran from the house. Outside he had left a horse, which he mounted at a lumber camp. Then he rode into the woods and has not been seen since.

DISABLED JAP SHIP IN TOW OF CRUISER

TRINGTAU, Shantung Peninsula, China, April 25.—The German cruiser, Spierke, reports having sighted, April 22, in the Straits of Formosa, a Japanese man-of-war, leaving a badly damaged vessel. ST. PETERSBURG, April 25.—The general staff of the navy denies that there has been any naval engagement in the Far Eastern waters as reported.

It says, however, on leaving Kanagawa Bay, that the Japanese man-of-war was seen as far as Java or Borneo in order to effect a junction with Admiral Nishino, who was reported to have been in the vicinity of the Philippines.

LONDON, April 25.—Reports received here from Shantung Peninsula that a Japanese warship has been sighted towing a disabled vessel, badly damaged, have caused considerable speculation. There is no known case of a sea fight having taken place since far, although there have been rumors of skirmishes between scouting vessels.

PUBLIC TO GAIN BY GAS FIGHT SETTLEMENT

After nearly six months of agitation, during which time it has become one of the most talked of questions in Massachusetts, the gas issue is on the road to a peaceful settlement. The committee on Public Lighting of the Legislature has favorably adopted its recommendations. Those regarding municipal ownership may be reported the first of this week. Those regarding the Boston gas situation will be reported on May 1. These things are known regarding the settlement.

The skeleton was offered in evidence this time, as at the two previous trials, to enable Dr. Riggins, house physician at the Hudson Street Hospital, where Young was taken when he was shot, to trace the course of the fatal bullet. Another point shown by the prosecution to-day was the fact that Nan Patterson had contradicted herself in telling the story of Young’s death in the cab last June.

Police Captain Sweeney testified to-day that Nan Patterson told him immediately after Young’s death that she had taken the pistol from his pocket, where it was found later, and allowed it to drop back. At a previous trial, Nan Patterson swore that she had not seen a pistol in the cab at all.

TRAGEDY IN THE CAB. The story of the tragedy in the cab was told by the cabman, Michaels, and by William Sweeney, Jr., a young man who was near the cab when the shot was fired. Sweeney testified that Michaels, the cabman, opened the trap door of the cab and looked in after the shot. Michaels told him to drive to a drug store.

When they reached the drug store, Michaels said that Nan said to him: “Hurry up and call the man,” meaning the doctor. “He is sick.” Frederick Wallace, bartender at a saloon near Young and Nan stopped for a drink, completed his story of the cab ride. He said that he saw the cabman, Michaels, and the girl, Nan Patterson, as they entered the cab. He saw the girl, Nan Patterson, as she entered the cab. He saw the girl, Nan Patterson, as she entered the cab.

HOUSE SUSTAINS DOUGLAS’ VETO BY 142 TO 18

Advocates of Casualty Company Bill Surprised at Feeling Against It.

By an overwhelming majority the House this morning refused to pass over Governor Douglas’s veto the bill to incorporate the Massachusetts Casualty Company. When the matter came up for a vote this morning the advocates of the bill were surprised at the feeling against it. With very little discussion the vote was taken, and resulted in 142 in favor of sustaining the Governor’s veto, to 18 for the bill.

Those who voted in favor of sustaining the veto were Representatives Adams of Lowell, Adams of Haverhill, Barnes of Springfield, Brigham of Marlboro, Chase of Webster, Cole of Andover, Furbur of Boston, Gibson of Fairfield, Hayes of Lowell, Hubbard of Gloucester, McManus of Natick, Moore of Boston, Power of Boston, Saffor of Lynn, Seward of Watertown, Smith of Fitchburg, Westcott of Lowell, and Woodward of Haverhill.

PATROLMAN REINSTATED.

Patrolman W. F. Merrill of Brookline, suspended for insubordination, was reinstated by the selectmen last evening. He was accused by Police Chief Carey of refusing to carry a flag from a playground to a stadium house.

HEIR TO RICE FORTUNE.

MENOMONIE, Wis., April 25.—Joseph Rice, a poor farmer living in obscurity on a small piece of land near this city, has been named by the New York millionaire who was murdered, and that he is the rightful heir to at least $400,000.

FIREBUG TERRORIZES TENANTS; DWELLING FIRED 4 TIMES IN 5 DAYS

NEWLAND STREET HOUSE WHERE FIREBUG STARTED FOUR BLAZES IN FIVE DAYS; CHILDREN WHO WERE ENDANGERED.

HOUSE IN REAR OF WHICH FIREBUG DID HIS WORK.

Charlestown Incendiary Has Rival at the South End. State and City Police Join in Hunt for Pyromaniacs Who Have Endangered Lives and Caused Untold Destruction of Property.

The work of another firebug, one who is believed to have no connection with the one who has destroyed much property in Charlestown and the North End, and for whose detection a reward of $1,000 has been offered, has been discovered in the South End, where four attempts in five days have been made to burn the tenement block at No. 18 Newland street.

The latest effort was made at 4:30 today, five hours after another effort nearly cost the lives of some of the occupants.

Two firemen were pulled from a crowd by the firebug, placed in the center of the cellar door, where the flames would most easily be kindled, and the firebug, who was wearing a mask, was seen to be lighting the fuse. They were being rescued when discovery prevented the loss of life.

Tenants Terror-Stricken.

The four families in the house are in a state of nervous tension. The police are watching the house, posted by an aide from the fire department's office. Firemen guard over the property until night.

League to Be Formed To-night To Fight Against Granting of Perpetual Franchises.

PROMINENT MEN IN PLAN

There will be a meeting in Citizens' Hall, Central square, Cambridge, tonight for the purpose of forming a League to Fight Against Granting of Perpetual Franchises.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock, and will be presided over by Henry M. Thayer, Andrew J. Barry, John H. Stevens, John Buckley, Richard H. Drexel, John H. Conway, John H. Barry, John H. Barry and Granville R. McFarland.

Mr. Conway said today: "Our main object is to prevent any street railway from getting a perpetual franchise in Cambridge, and to protect the interests of the citizens."

Should Pay City.

"There is much agitation now over what the proposed subway and elevated road in this city shall take. There are several different plans and suggestions now before the Boston Elevated road, and it is not yet decided which one will be adopted."

It is believed that the city will be required to pay for the construction of the road, and that the city will be required to pay for the construction of the road.

CESTRIAN HERE:

HAD BACK

In the first message to the post for several months the Cestrarian came to the post, Captain Thomas, arrived today from Liverpool, making a quick run of nine days and eleven hours. On account of extreme cold the vessel was compelled to lay to for several hours.

Three sailors passengers and two stowaways were brought to the stowaways were Henry Carter, a Canadian, and a man who lives at Cambridgeport, thirty years of age. The Canadian had been withdrawn from the Boston service on account of the depression in freight traffic.

GIBSON. CRIGER. COLLINS. FARRELL.

Special to the Boston American.
BROOKLYN, April 22.—Fred Tenney's location aggregation will play their last game in this city today previous to their departure for Houston.

Tenney is slightly pleased with the showing of his band to date, and is projecting a successful season for them. He honestly believes that his team will make a record in the Houston league.

He is not sure if he will be able to make the team today, and he is in good trim. He left from the first hope to score an earlier victory. However, Hanson has deferred as before and hopes this early pitcher will give the club more than they are calculating for.

From Houston they will travel today in the morning train. Sharpe will be in the morning train. Sharpe will be in the morning train. Sharpe will be in the morning train.

TOMMY ATKINS HATS THE RAGE Military Style The Newest Spring Fad

Fashion adopts the famous "pill-box" of the British regular, and adds a brand new idea to the wardrobe of the up-to-date girl of America.

One of the new hats is pictured here, and is edged with a narrow band of velvet. At the left side is a white cord. The wind simply cannot whirl these hats off.

Of course, these hats will be very easy, and one should wear this in mind when selecting one.

And when they are worn, they are certainly very smart.

Los Angeles is especially susceptible to the influence of Paris.

Yet it was not a warlike influence which I detected in the socialistic thought of Los Angeles.

It was peaceful, but as determined as the others.

Of all the scenes of Socialists I met, this was the most unbusinesslike or believed in destructive methods. The others were universally constructive and united in their purpose.

It is interesting to trace the growth of this thought back to a woman—for without doubt the remarkable history of the Standard Oil monopoly by J. P. Morgan has done more to awaken the people of America to existing dangers than any other single act of the generation.

Surely it has been well said that this is a woman's world.

Manitowish to observe every man and woman in the ranks of the Socialists to acquire a portion of each for socialistic theories.

The spirit of socialism in California is not so much in the cities as in the rural, not so much in the cities as in the rural, not so much in the cities as in the rural.

The Growth of Socialism in California and a Warning Not to Mistake Jealousy for Socialism

During the month recently passed in California I was somewhat startled to find the tremendous growth of socialistic thought since a previous visit in 1904. People who only one year ago were not even aware of the word "socialism" were now being criticized by the most prominent newspapers as promoters of socialism.

It is interesting to trace the growth of this thought back to a woman—for without doubt the remarkable history of the Standard Oil monopoly by J. P. Morgan has done more to awaken the people of America to existing dangers than any other single act of the generation.

Surely it has been well said that this is a woman's world.

Manitowish to observe every man and woman in the ranks of the Socialists to acquire a portion of each for socialistic theories.

COMES HOME TO TREMONT

After a year of continuous flight the birds

just one year ago. Lucille last evening. It was given its first full-fledged production in 1934, and to make the anniversary complete the initial and last night's performances were given on the same stage.

Woodward, who has become so popular that he has been played continuously ever since. This is a rare record even for the most pleasing of operas. The audience last evening was one of the largest which ever assembled at the Grand, and it was so responsive that the conductor could not fail to feel at home. Appreciation was added to applause so hearty and spontaneous by play which causes laughter. Many of the audience of last evening had seen the operetta before, but enjoyed it no less for that reason. It is fitting that such wholesome, joyous birds should come back to Boston in the Spring.

Park Theatre.

Robert Edson began his fifth week in "Strongheart" at the Park Theatre last night. It greatly looks as if this attraction has settled down here for a run, for last night's audience was as large as any since the opening, and quite as demonstrative. Friday night has been set apart as "Tech" night in response to requests from graduates and pupils of that institution and there will be a big theatre party of students.

Colonial Theatre.

It is hard to realize that "Humpty Dumpty" has already been at the Colonial Theatre for five weeks, but it is so, and the sixth was begun with last evening's performance. This Irviny Lane spectacle has become very popular and last night the theatre was again crowded. The matinees have proved very attractive to the young

AREN'T MEN THE WRETCHES?

80 AND 82 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, APRIL 25, 1905.

There Is Much Encouragement in Two Recent Speeches

VERY BIG RICH MEN MAY OWN IT FOR THEM.

BUT IN THE EFFORT TO GET OFFICE, THEY ALSO GOT OFF THE BENCH—which means that they will not be able as JUDGES to interpret the laws to mean what they think—WHICH IS EXACTLY THE REVERSE OF WHAT THE PEOPLE THINK.

Each of them now is in his proper sphere, working as a corporation lawyer along the lines laid down in the two speeches that the Sun quoted.

They Develop the Manliness and Independence Which Are Essential to Success in Life

If you have a son, the first thing that you want him to be is a REAL MAN. If he has any manliness in him the public school is the thing to bring it out.

HOW MUCH DID THE GAS TRUST PAY FOR THIS

The Legislature should show the Boston gas interests no favors; they deserve none. The members should not be carried away

(The Springfield Union is one of the papers that printed, FOR HIRE, the bogus dispatch sent out by the Gas Trust announcing a compromise in the Gas war.)
